LOYOLA TO MEET OQAA EASTERN LEADERS

The first place OSL Loyola Hockey Warriors will face a strong and tough Carleton University Ravens who lead the OQAA eastern section tomorrow night at 8:00 p.m. at home. It will be the last game for the Warriors prior to the Christmas break and their second to last outing before they host their top holiday ice tourney.

Leading the Ravens is former Loyola star goalie Andy Molino and a host of potent point men.

Molino has played in two of the Ravens four wins (they haven't lost a game in league play) allowing four goals and together with Rick Benning the Ravens boast the division's top netminding duo. Molino starred with the Warriors for three seasons before making the move to the Ottawa campus this fall. During his stint in a Warrior uniform Molino was recognized as one of the top college goalies in Canada.

While Molino and Benning are barring the nets the Carleton club has a pack of talented forwards who know how to score goals. Three of the top four scorers in the division are Ravens. The top man is veteran Bill Earle with five goals and six assists while Greg Gordon and John Haslop are tied for third spot with three goals and seven assists in four games. Veteran Wayne Small is right behind with six goals and three assists as four other Ravens are listed in the scoring race.
